Float

How Alvéole saved over $4,000/month and streamlined expense management with Float

About the Company

Alvéole helps organizations bring sustainability to life through urban beekeeping experiences. With teams operating across Canada, the U.S., and Europe, they manage thousands of hives in cities across North America— supported by a growing team of employees, beekeepers, and field staff who rely on simple, real-time access to company funds.

THE CHALLENGE

Alvéole's finance team was buried in manual work, juggling Concur for reimbursements and traditional corporate cards for field teams. Employees in remote locations were forced to pay out of pocket or wait on HQ for approvals—leading to delays, frustration, and a serious lack of visibility and control.
